Branstetter, 2012-03-01 Around the turn of the twentieth century, revivalist Protestantism in America splintered into multiple pieces. Few persons of that era knew as many of the central figures of the splinter groups as Aaron Merritt Hills. Originally a Congregationalist who studied under Finney at Oberlin, Hills was a dyed-in-the-wool postmillennial revivalist until his death in 1935. While a Congregationalist, he befriended Reuben A. Torrey and made an enemy of Washington Gladden. In 1895, he joined the Holiness Movement after his experience of Spirit baptism. For the next forty years, he founded colleges, held holiness revivals in both America and Britain, and wrote voluminously. While Hills himself is a lesser-known figure in the story, of American Christianity because of the many embroilments of his life his story offers a unique window into the relationship between the Holiness Movement Fundamentalism Pentecostalism American liberalism and the Social Gospel Movement

Examination of the Doctrine of Perfection as Held by Rev. Asa Mahan ... and Others Leonard Woods, 1841 The Ground of Holy Life David D. Cho, 2021-08-12 The Reformation put the grace of God in the right place in the salvation of man Luther's proclamation of justification by faith brought the concept of grace to the fore and made it the centrality of Christian theology But the overemphasis on the doctrine of justification in the Reformation created the imbalance between justification and sanctification in the soteriology of the Protestant church To some people just the profession of faith without an accompanying godly life was not good enough for salvation It seemed that salvation by grace of God in the doctrine of justification made man's salvation too easy thereby opening the floodgate for nominal Christians who were no different from pagans in their hearts Christian leaders and theologians in the modern church age have tried to rectify this problem by injecting the necessity of works into the Christian life The spiritual movements such as pietism and perfectionism and new theologies such as the New Perspective on Paul and the Federal Vision are such endeavors that have stressed good works in the salvation of man However without the concept of definitive sanctification they all lost the monergistic nature of salvation and deviated to the humanistic theology of Arminianism or Pelagianism Examination of the Doctrine of Perfection As Held by REV.
