Documenting Transnational Migration New Directions In Anthropology:

Learning From the Children Jacqueline Waldren, Ignacy-Marek Kaminski, 2012-06-01 Children and youth regardless of their ethnic backgrounds are experiencing lifestyle choices their parents never imagined and contributing to the transformation of ideals traditions education and adult child power dynamics As a result of the advances in technology and media as well as the effects of globalization the transmission of social and cultural practices from parents to children is changing Based on a number of qualitative studies this book offers insights into the lives of children and youth in Britain Japan Spain Israel Palestine and Pakistan Attention is focused on the child s perspective within the social power dynamics involved in adult child relations which reveals the dilemmas of policy planning and parenting in a changing world Great

Expectations Jonathan Skinner, Dimitrios Theodossopoulos, 2011-10-01 The negotiation of expectations in tourism is a complex and dynamic process one that is central to the imagination of cultural difference Expectations not only affect the lives and experiences of tourists but also their hosts and play an important part in the success or failure of the overall tourism experience It is for this reason the authors argue that special attention should be given to how expectations constitute and sustain tourism The case studies presented here explore what fuels the desires to visit particular places to what degree expectations inform the experience of the place and the frequent disjunctions between tourist expectations and experiences Careful attention is paid to how the imagination of the visitor inspires the imagination of the host and vice versa how tourists and host communities actively imagine re imagine and shape each other s lives This realization has profound consequences not solely for academic analysis but for all those who participate in and work within the tourism industry

The Franco-Mauritian Elite Tijo Salverda, 2015-04-01 Mauritian independence in 1968 marked the end of a regime favorable to the Franco Mauritians the island s white colonial elite Now in postcolonial Mauritius this group is faced with a much more diverse power constellation and often feels in competition with others vying for their privileges Though this is a clear departure from the colonial heydays Franco Mauritians have been able to continue their elite position into the early twenty first century This book focuses on the power of white elites still lingering on in postcolonial realities and with regards to elites and power in general addresses anew how an elite group aims to prolong its position over time Footprints in

Paradise Andrea E. Murray, 2017-06-01 The economic imperative of sustainable tourism development frequently shapes life on small subtropical islands In Okinawa ecotourism promises to provide employment for a dwindling population of rural youth while preserving the natural environment and bolstering regional pride Footprints in Paradise explores the transformation in community and sense of place as Okinawans come to view themselves through the lens of the visiting tourist consumer and as their language landscapes and wildlife are reconstituted as treasured and vulnerable resources The rediscovery and revaluing of local ecological knowledge strengthens Okinawan or Uchinaa cultural heritage despite the controversial presence of US military bases amidst a hegemonic Japanese state Crossing European Boundaries Jaro

Stacul, Christina Moutsou, Helen Kopnina, 2006 At the turn of the millennium the state of Europe is fluid and contested yet how this affects the everyday lives of European peoples and the ways they experience the social world they live in remains largely unexplored Drawing upon ethnographic information from diverse European settings this volume points to the contradictions that the project of a Europe without boundaries involves In illustrating how the removal of political boundaries can create other boundaries the articles in this volume provide alternatives to recent theorising on complexity which takes little account of human agency

A Goddess in Motion Roger Canals, 2017-08-01 The current practice of the cult of Mar a Lionza is one of the most important and yet unexplored religious practices in Venezuela Based on long term fieldwork this book explores the role of images and visual culture within the cult By adopting a relational approach A Goddess in Motion shows how the innumerable images of this goddess represented as an Indian white or mestizo woman move constantly from objects to bodies from bodies to dreams and from the religion domain to the art world In short this book is a fascinating study that sheds light on the role of visual creativity in contemporary religious manifestations

Americans in Tuscany Catherine Trundle, 2014-07-01 Since the time of the Grand Tour the Italian region of Tuscany has sustained a highly visible American and Anglo migrant community Today American women continue to migrate there many in order to marry Italian men Confronted with experiences of social exclusion unfamiliar family relations and new cultural terrain many women struggle to build local lives In the first ethnographic monograph of Americans in Italy Catherine Trundle argues that charity and philanthropy are the central means by which many American women negotiate a sense of migrant belonging in Italy This book traces women's daily acts of charity as they gave food to the poor fundraised among the wealthy monitored untrustworthy recipients assessed the needy and reflected on the emotional work that charity required In exploring the often ignored role of charitable action in migrant community formation Trundle contributes to anthropological theories of gift giving compassion and reflexivity

Documenting Transnational Migration Richard T. Antoun, 2005-07-01 Most studies on transnational migration either stress assimilation circulatory migration or the negative impact of migration This remarkable study which covers migrants from one Jordanian village to 17 different countries in Europe Asia and North America emphasizes the resiliency of transnational migrants after long periods of absence social encapsulation and stress and their ability to construct social networks and reinterpret traditions in such a way as to mix the old and the new in a scenario that incorporates both worlds Focusing on the humanistic aspects of the migration experience this book examines questions such as birth control women's work retention of tribal law and the changing attitudes of migrants towards themselves their families their home communities and their nation It ends with placing transnational migration from Jordan in a cross cultural perspective by comparing it with similar processes elsewhere and critically reviews a number of theoretical perspectives that have been used to explain migration
