Latino and Latina Writers Alan West, 2004 This title in the Scribner Writers Series provides in-depth biographical and critical essays on more than 50 Latino/Latina writers. Seven thematic essays consider each writer's works in relation to music, language, feminism, and other key topics. Covering well-known writers such as Sandra Cisneros and Luis J. Rodriguez, as well as lesser-known but still significant authors such as Tino Villanueva and Achy Obegás, this set gives researchers detailed coverage of the vibrant works of literature written by Cuban, Dominican, Chicano, and Puerto Rican authors.

American Writers Leonard Unger, A. Walton Litz, Molly Weigel, Lea Bechler, Jay Parini, 1974 The four-volume set consists of ninety-seven of the pamphlets originally published as the University of Minnesota pamphlets on American writers. Some have been revised and updated.

Her guide to narrative work by women of Latin American descent who were born and raised in the US or have resided there for a significant part of their lives is designed to serve the growing attention such writers and works are attracting in academic circles.

Something to Declare Julia Alvarez, 1998-08-01 Julia Alvarez has suitcases full of history, public and private trunks full of insights into what it means to be a Latina in the United States, bags full of literary wisdom. Los Angeles Times From the internationally acclaimed author of the bestselling novels In the Time of the Butterflies and How the Garcia Girls Lost Their Accents, comes a rich and revealing work of nonfiction capturing the life and mind of an artist as she knits together the dual themes of coming to America and becoming a writer. The twenty-four confessional, evocative essays that make up Something to Declare are divided into two parts. Customs includes Alvarez's memories of her family's life in the Dominican Republic, fleeing from Trujillo's dictatorship and arriving in America when she was ten years old. She examines the effects of exile, surviving the shock of New York City life, yearning to fit in, training her tongue and her mind to speak English, and watching the Miss America pageant for clues about American style and beauty. The second half, Declarations, celebrates her passion for words and the writing life. She lets us watch as she struggles with her art, searching for a subject for her next novel, confronting her characters, facing her family's anger when she invades their privacy, reflecting on the writers who influenced her, and continually honing her craft. The winner of the National Medal of Arts for her extraordinary storytelling, Julia Alvarez here offers essays that are an inspiring gift to readers and writers everywhere. This beautiful collection of essays traces a process of personal reconciliation with insight, humor, and quiet power. San Francisco Examiner and Chronicle
